GENTLEMEN: —The case of Applegate & Coleman, assignees, vs. The Pittsburgh, Wheeling & Kentucky Railroad Company, which was appealed at the instance of your Board to the Circuit Court of the United States for this district, has been decided by that court. The case was decided by that court. The case was beard and decided by the Chief Justice of the United States, who has entered a de the United States, who has entered a decree agrainst the defendant for $2,325.56, with interest from December 20, 1872, until paid and the costs in the District Court. These costs amount to $258.60 I think that my fees should be at least $450 in addition to $50 which I have already received.

It is perhaps proper to say that this case has been in litigation about twelve years. In 1875 there was a report of the Com-missioner in favor of the plaintiffs for $8,-39, which, with interest, but excluding sis and fees, would now amount to $15,or six and fees, would now amount to $10, another Commissioner, who in 1875 reported in favor of the plaintiffs for $5, and fees, would now the standard amount to $10, another Commissioner, who in 1875 reported in favor of the plaintiffs for $5, and $422.58, which with interest to this time would amount to $8,181.80. Upon exceptions to that report the amount was reduced by the Court to $4,495.89, and for that amount a decree was entered in $10, 1975. That amount, with the interest upon if, but excluding costs and fees, would now amount to $8,136.90. My connection with the case began at the next term after this decree was set aside, and the court recommitted the case to the Commissioner, who, in 1882, made another report, finding infavor of the plaintiff for $3,292.43; that amount with interest, costs and fees.

Mr. Bernard Shanley leaves next Montangian for Toronto, Canada, to athat amount with interest, costs and ses would now amount to $6 668 89 From officials, came up from Farst class of the Secondary of t which would leave a deficiency of $1,121.63. By making the levy 60 cents a revenue of $115,945.14 would be obtained, which would pay all appropriations and leave a surplus of $8,540.47. In view of the fact that the county was fitting up a new court house he thought it better to have a surplus to meet any little deficiencies that might occur in the fitting up of the court house. If there should be a deficiency, as there would be in case the 55 cent levy

After this ballot Mr. J. C. Tallman, of Bellaire, moved to dryp the lowest candidate after each succeeding ballot, but the motion meeting with considerable opposition, was again withdrawn.

Another ballot was taken. Foulk received 34 votes, Sedwick 25, Clark 14. On the seventh ballot Foulk received 40, Clark 12 and Sedwick 28. On the next Foulk iell to 27 and Clark rose to 15. Sedwick got 25, and Wilson rose to 15. Mc. Consughey gained one or two. On the ninth ballot Foulk "got there," receiving 55 votes, 6 more than the 49 necessary to nominate. Before the result was formally announced it was known all over the hall, announced it was known all over the hail. announced it was known all over the half, and the crowd cheered wildly and called for Foulk. Amid great enthusiasm Mr. Foulk was brought forward and presented by the chairman, "with the distinct understanding," Mr. Danford said, "that he is not to make a speech." The nomination was made unauimous on motion of a Sedwick man, and after another round of cheers Mr. Foulk retired from the platform and ran the ganglet of hand shak-form and ran the ganglet of hand shakform and ran the gaunet of hand shak-ing in the body of the hall, while the band struck up a lively air.
